ANRE and RAE signed a Memorandum of Understanding to promote energy regulation cooperation

The National Electricity Regulatory Authority (ANRE) of the Kingdom of Morocco and the Energy Regulatory Authority (RAE) of Hellenic Republic have signed, on Monday 31st October 2022 in Athens, a Memorandum of Understanding to strengthen bilateral cooperation in the field of energy regulation.

Initialed by the President of ANRE, Mr. Abdellatif Bardach, and his Greek counterpart, Mr. Athanasios Dagoumas, this memorandum is part of the new impetus that has been given to the historical and excellent relations linking the Kingdom of Morocco and Hellenic Republic over the past decades as well as the evolution and development of the energy landscape.

This partnership translates into a strong commitment of the two regulators to work together under the framework of consultation on the various topics of energy regulation through the promotion of experience exchange, the knowledge sharing and the strengthening of their technical capacity in this field.
